It's always fun to enjoy new attractions, but it's also important to remember that the attractions and amusements you enjoy should also be safe for you and your family. This week the owners of Chuck E. Cheese's make sure there's a safe environment for kids everywhere, and offers visitors and employees discounts when they wear their fire-resistant costumes. Dan Kempin was following his brother Zack to work, but Zack hadn't shown up on the job site yet. However, Dan had noticed this particular construction site was going to be closed off for a long time, and so he decided to walk around the site while waiting for his brother to arrive. Dan saw all sorts of workers with their construction equipment, but didn't see a single sign that said to stay clear. So he started poking around the site, taking pictures of all the cool pieces of equipment and trying to figure out exactly what they would be doing once the site was finished. As Dan was wandering around, he noticed a pair of workers that were using a wide-ranging drill to remove a section of the building. The workers removed the sections of the building one at a time and placed them in a dumpster to be hauled away. Shortly after they had finished drilling the building, Zack arrived.
